

EVERYDAY GIVING

A Cup of Connection

What if your next coffee came with something more than caffeine?

Everyday life is full of opportunities to give. Sometimes we just have to notice them. Your next coffee run is one of them.

Coffee shops are places where people cross paths every day. You don't need a big plan, lots of time or even money to turn one ordinary stop into a small moment of connection.

FUN FACT

51%

of adults buy coffee from a coffee shop at least once a week.

Order something different today

Pick one. No reservation required.

THE PAY-IT-FORWARD

Buy the next person's coffee.

THE BARISTA GIVE

Ask your barista their name. Thank them by name and leave a tip if you can.

THE COMPLIMENT

Notice something genuinely great about someone and tell them.

THE NOTE

Leave a short positive note on a table for the next person to find.

THE EXTRA SEAT

If you're sitting alone and someone is looking for a place to sit, offer the empty chair.

THE THANK-YOU REVIEW

Love your local coffee shop? Leave them a great review before you finish your drink.

THE PHONE-DOWN COFFEE

Meeting someone? Put your phone away and give them your full attention.

THE HELLO

Instead of automatically looking at your phone while you wait, look up. Smile. Say hello.

THE NO-MONEY GIVE

No money needed. Hold the door. Return your tray. Let someone go ahead of you. Recycle everything you can.

You were going for coffee anyway.

What if you left with a little more connection than you came in with?
