

SEND SOMETHING WORTH KEEPING

The Snail Mail Project

Put something worth keeping in someone's mailbox.

When was the last time you opened your mailbox and found something personal that wasn't a bill, flyer or package?

Most messages today are sent in seconds. Texts disappear up the screen. Emails get buried. A handwritten note is different. Someone took the time to write it, stamp it and send it just for you.

WRITE IT → STAMP IT → SEND IT

01

Pick someone

Think of someone who would love to unexpectedly hear from you.

02

Write something real

Use the printable note on the next page or grab any card or piece of paper you have.

03

Send some love

Put it in the mail.

No address? Hand-deliver it. Slip it under their door. Leave it somewhere they'll find it.

No special occasion required.

Only love.

Your phone can reach someone in seconds.
This might stay with them for years.

CUT ALONG THE DASHED LINE. FOLD DOWN THE MIDDLE. FITS A STANDARD A7 ENVELOPE.

WRITE ANYTHING YOU WANT.

Look closely, and you will find magic woven into the ordinary.
